AUSTRALIAN TEAM - 2015 INAS GLOBAL GAMES

- For a young elite athlete with a disability it might mean an opportunity to meet their hero, inspire them to achieve their personal best, to focus on their ability not their disability, to represent their country at the Global Games
- For all schoolchildren it's about the opportunity to learn about the Global Games, about values and about other countries and their cultures and the importance of inclusion and access to sport for all Australians and also the opportunity to attend the games and support the athletes
- For parents of children with a disability it's about the opportunity for their child to achieve their personal best and represent their country on the world stage, and an opportunity to recognise and celebrate the efforts and sacrifices families make to support their child's sporting ambitions
- For our communities it's about embracing diversity, taking part in cultural events, working together to celebrate the Global Games, and engendering a truly inclusive and welcoming community spirit
- For our local community based sporting clubs it's about encouraging and supporting all Australian children to participate in sport as a player, as a volunteer as a paid employee or as a life long fan!
- For volunteers an opportunity to continue to support inclusive sport and provide their expertise to ensuring a successful Global Games
- For our National and State Sporting Organisations it's about providing them with the tools and training to be truly inclusive and provide pathways for all children reinforcing the belief that Sport owns Sport
- For Government a clear demonstration of commitment to a fully inclusive society, and recognising ability not disability on the international sporting stage
- For sponsors and community partners an opportunity to extend their traditional support of sport in to new markets
- For Media – local, national and international – to bring the attention of the world to inclusive sport at elite level

International convention

Brief for proposed Program for the International Inclusive Sport Convention

Venue: Royal International Convention Centre, Brisbane Australia

Dates: Wednesday 16th October – Thursday 17 October 2019

Convention Theme: The value of inclusive sport – Social, Economic and Health Perspectives

The International Convention will bring together the worlds leading minds and leaders from sport, economics, society, health, governments, corporations and community non government organisations to explore, discuss and debate how inclusive sport programs and practices can bring human and financial value to a country.

A series of Keynote addresses, panel discussions and interactive workshops will guide attendees on the collaborative and engaging journey to exploring the Convention Theme.

The BGGOC will develop the Convention brief and Program in consultation with the Inas Governing Board and intends to make further formal announcements, calls for presenters and papers and formal delegate registrations in 2017.

The BGGOC also wishes to present a Youth Leadership Development stream. An opportunity for young athletes to engage in elements of the broader convention program whilst also focusing on some targeted sessions to develop their leadership skills in the world of elite sport and the role it plays in developing community. The BGGOC will also explore funding opportunities to subsidise selected Youth Delegates and may at its discretion seek applications for such financial support (BGGOC Scholarship)
